TAX RESIDENCY PROGRAM

Establishing tax residency in Antigua and Barbuda can be an excellent way to protect your income and help planning when it comes to global income taxation and tax rates. The permanent residency program was created to attract individuals and business investments to the country for tax purposes. The Antigua and Barbuda tax residency requirements for this program don't require you to be a citizen or permanently reside in the country.

The requirements to establish tax residency are:

1. Maintain a residential address in Antigua and Barbuda
2. Spend a minimum of 30 days each year in the country
3. Have a minimum annual income of $100.000
4. Payment of a flat tax of $20.000 per annum

The flat tax of $20.000 is all the taxation you will have to pay. Antiguan citizens and residents do not pay taxes on personal income, capital gains tax, or inheritance tax, making it an excellent permanent residence for investors looking to limit the necessary taxes they have to pay.

Required documents:

1. Passport-size photograph
2. Valid passport
3. Medical insurance certificate
4. Police certificate for each applicant over 16
5. Proof of an annual income of at least $100.000
6. $20.000 annual flat tax receipt
7. Proof of relationship to dependents, such as a birth or marriage certificate
